FORGE 5 is combining athletics and education to create the most productive learning environment for young athletes. All programs are designed and instructed by Tenured Physical Education Teachers in conjunction with Professional Athletes. We put the emphasis on the QUALITY of work and EDUCATION behind it. We are determined to teach the game of baseball the right way and fully develop the mental and physical skills needed for success on the field.

Matt Reistetter (Washington Nationals) and Casey McKay (Head Varsity Coach at St. John the Baptist) will be bringing a new approach to instructing athletes to the sporting community!
